INFORMATION

TARGET AUDIENCE

Producers, government officials, academics, students, and the general public interested in the field.

OBJECTIVE

The SINA is a scientific event organized every two years by AENA and various national research and educational institutions. The symposium will feature keynote presentations by national and international experts, highlighting the latest advancements in aquaculture nutrition.

This event will foster crucial interactions between industry, government, academia, students, and professionals interested in world class cutting-edge research.

TOPICS

The congress will cover the following topics:

- Nutritional requirements
- Digestibility
- Live feed
- Alternative proteins sources
- Nutrition of emerging species
- Nutrigenomics
- Functional additives
- Feeding strategies
- Eco-efficient feeds
- Special session for producers

GENERAL INFORMATION

The event will be broadcasted virtually via the Zoom platform.

LANGUAGE

The official language is Spanish, with simultaneous translation into English.

English presentations are wellcome.

PARTICIPATION

RESEARCH ABSTRACTS

PRESENTATION MODALITIES

- Oral presentations will be by invitation only for national and international researchers and producers.

- Contributed presentations will be in the form of an electronic poster (E-Poster) and a short video (max. 5 minutes) explaining the research.
- A single author may submit a maximum of two abstracts as the primary author.
- A certificate of presentation will be awarded to the presenting author, listing all co-authors in the submitted order.
- A certificate of attendance will be issued electronically to all registered participants 10 days after the symposium.

ELECTRONIC POSTER (E-POSTER) GUIDELINES

- Accepted abstracts must be presented in an electronic poster (E-Poster) format.
- Abstracts must be original, complete research that has not been accepted for publication in journals.
- Posters may be in Spanish or English, and presentations can be in either language.

 Instructions for submitting abstracts, E-Posters, and videos can be found here.

ABSTRACT SUBMISSION

Abstracts must be submitted electronically through the participant registration webpage before July 15, 2025.

- Notification of acceptance will be sent by July 31, 2025.

 Submission Guide: Participants must follow the Word template provided here: [Abstract Template] (<https://goo.su/hjwWO5>).

- Once the Scientific Committee accepts the abstract, authors must register and pay the fee to be included in the program and proceedings.

POSTER AND VIDEO SUBMISSION

- Accepted authors must create an E-Poster (PDF format) and a short video (max. 5 minutes, MP4 format, max. 50MB).
- Submission via email: Authors must upload both files to cloud storage and share the link with sina2025@cibnor.mx.
- YouTube option: Alternatively, authors may upload the video to YouTube and provide the link.

 E-Poster Template: A PowerPoint template optimized for screens and mobile devices is available here: [E-Poster Template] (<https://goo.su/H1ku>).

CONTESTS

E-POSTER COMPETITION

The Scientific Committee will evaluate all submitted E-Posters and videos to award prizes for the top three presentations in both undergraduate and graduate categories.

SCIENTIFIC PHOTOGRAPHY CONTEST

Participants may submit up to two original photographs related to aquaculture nutrition research.

- Format: JPG, max. resolution 200 DPI, max. size 5MB.
- The three best photographs will be awarded prizes.

Additional Requirements:

1. A PDF document listing the author(s) and a brief description of the photograph.
2. A signed Authorization Letter (PDF) stating that there are no copyright conflicts and that the image has not been previously published or awarded.

Criteria for Submission:

- Original and unpublished
- Not previously awarded
- Not exhibited publicly or used for commercial purposes
